

Title of Thesis	Money Management among Students in IBS College Miri
Name	Shweta Jethi A/P Narain
Program	BA (Hons) Accounting and Finance (In collaborations with UCSI)
Date of Submission	December 2018
Student Thesis Code	2018/DEC/UCSI/BAAF/09

ABSTRACT

It is said that money plays important role in our daily life and this is true. Money are considered as our basis necessity for us to survive. Without money, it is impossible to survive. Money give satisfaction, provide education and power and also it helps to prevent the sufferings that come with poverty like cold and hunger. The purpose of this study is to examine the study of money management among students in IBS College, Miri. For this research, the researcher adopted quantitative method and the collection was through self-designed questionnaire to get the research data. The data are collected and analyse using simple statistic method. The study revealed that most of the respondents have better understanding on how to spend their money. Besides that, respondents also agreed that parents have a major influence when it comes to money management. The results also indicated that they are challenges affecting saving behaviour such as respondent failed to control themselves on spending money. Moreover, respondent agreed that the methods on improving money management where they should save money aside on a regular basis for the future. From the results, the researcher suggests several recommendations for implemented. The recommendation advice that students can begin to organize by recording their expenses into a workable budget. Parents can be a good mentor on helping their children by making a financial goal. Other than that, student can start by making a spending plan and try to stick with it. Besides that, student can find items that is a lot cheaper through online and sometimes even overseas depending on the shipping costs. Last but not least student can also get a student discount. Many movie theatre, restaurants, and public transportation options offer discounted prices for student.